CARISA

CARISA is an easy-to-use mobile application to create meaningful moments of connection in aged care.

Created in Australia specifically for residential aged care, CARISA will give your homes a practical, visible, measurable way for carers and family members to regularly engage with residents in individualised, meaningful and relationship-building interactions.

CARISA leverages the well-established power of images to stimulate interaction and elicit conversation between people from diverse age and cultural backgrounds in group and one-on-one encounters.

CARISA offers a series of simple and innovative picture card conversations, game-like activities and "about me" style entries, for each resident.

A PRACTICAL SOLUTION FOR CARERS AND FAMILIES

Carers can use CARISA activities anytime to provide social and emotional support for residents and to enhance lifestyle and diversional therapy practices.

In addition to storing the image choices and notes from conversations, the application includes simple integrated mood and engagement assessments and time-stamped interactions.

For families, CARISA provides an easy way to increase the enjoyment and engagement they experience with their loved ones by adding purpose, novelty, depth and interest for all members of the family.

Over time, each resident's CARISA journal, becomes a growing record of moments they have had with carers and family that can be used as a rich source to motivate connection, continuity and relationship.

Carer observations

"Janny's mood was massively improved after seeing the cards."

"Jeffery struggles to get his words out, but I could see his face light up with the pics he chose."

"Gave an insight to what kind of things Alex likes and that keep him calm."

Resident's comments

"I have thought things today, that I have not thought about in a long time."

"It was nice having someone ask about me."
